

TRAILS FOUR PEAKS WILDERNESS

There is a network of some 40 miles of “system” trails serving the Four Peaks Wilderness Area and contiguous areas. Their condition varies from satisfactory to very poor. All trails are closed to motor vehicles and mechanical transport such as bikes.

Use a great deal of caution when traveling on backcountry trails such as this one and be aware of the risks you assume.

A few brief comments are in order about the following trail:

Soldier Camp Trail 83: 8 miles long. This trail traverses the western open ridges below Four Peaks. The southern half is an old jeep road. Travelers will have nice views of Four Peaks and lower desert country. The south end of the trail can be reached by hiking/riding up lower Soldier Camp Trail from Cottonwood Camp, then going northeast a short distance on Forest Road 401 to its intersection with this trail. Elevation: 3320 - 5450 feet. Difficulty Level: More difficult. Use level: Very light. Termini: Mud Spring TH.

Use of any mechanized or motorized is prohibited on this trail. No more than 15 people are allowed to be in a group. No more than 15 head of livestock are allowed in a group.
