

Figure 2–4.—Forests have an unexcelled capacity to promote rainwater infiltration into the soil, ameliorating floods, and gradually releasing a constant flow that is free of sediments.